Dear Patriot,

We are deep into those lazy, hazy, crazy days of summer. It is HOT. It is HUMID!

Despite the lulling, there is much activity under the radar.

Many goings on are not reported. While far from a comprehensive list, here are son examples ...

- there is a boom going on.
- murder happens less.
- illegals voting.
- cancelling clean feet.

1- This is the type of information that we urge you to share. Otherwise, it is happen in vacuum.

The ONLY reason it is “quiet” is that no one will report it.

The Quiet Manufacturing Boom

QUOTE: Beneath the cacophony of media noise, an important untold story emerges: A manufacturing boom is unfolding across America right now, and especially so in the geographic center of the country.

This developing boom represents an epochal shift because investments in factor and tangible production involve the stickiest kind of capital expenditures. The commitment to production involves a macro “bet” on a years long cycle, not a near term wager on the latest fad or concerns about the price of gasoline next week.

As such, this mostly hidden story deserves to be studied and amplified, both for economic benefits and also for the possible political windfall for candidates on the populist right.

But before considering the import of this shift, it’s important to look at the numbers, the verifiable on-the-ground data sets that prove this new reality. The most-watched gauge of productive activity, the ISM Manufacturing Index, just surged to a fresh four-year high. Specifically, that ISM reading stands at 55 now, well above the 50 mark, which signals expansion. It has been rising for seven months.

In addition, manufacturing employment is rising, similarly marking a new four-year record high. These jobs are high-paying, family-sustaining roles that make our whole society stronger, not part-time “hustles” or gig economy transitions.

Construction jobs related directly to factories and trade are soaring under President Donald Trump at 10 times the pace he inherited from former President Joe Biden. In the first quarter of 2025, when Trump took office, the United States only added 9,300 such construction jobs. So far in the third quarter of 2026, America has added 93,000 such construction positions and counting. Amazing progress!

How has this renaissance unfolded?

The answer is solid policy. First, the Trump administration insists on fair and reciprocal trade. Gone are the days of America tolerating abusive and predatory trade tactics, particularly China's.

But even aside from our Chinese Communist Party opponents, allies and "friends" abused America economically as well. For instance, Western Europe massively subsidized exports to the United States through its VAT taxation system, making their goods far more affordable for Americans than U.S. goods sent across the Atlantic. Such non-tariff trade barriers have been smartly exposed and repelled by the new American approach to trade.

Today, the investment landscape in America makes it the best destination in the world for capital and resources. In fact, overseas capital now rushes to build and invest in the United States. Last year, in 2025, international capital spent $232 billion in the U.S., a whopping 50 percent increase over the 2024 levels under Biden.

This torrid pace shows no signs of slowing down, either. Looking to the future, the Financial Times reports that foreign capital commitments hit a new record high of $321.4 billion in 2025. Moreover, the United States earned a record 23.6 percent share of all such pledges globally. The days of simply managing the constant offshoring of American production are over, thank goodness!

Turning to electoral politics, the legacy media sadly has no interest in covering this huge story. Thus, it is incumbent on our movement and our candidates to broadcast the good news of a very real trend that points to far more Main Street prosperity ahead.

2- There is still too much crime being committed by criminals who have been released under lenient Democrat policies and activist judges in Blue States.

Thank goodness the President is making this one of his many priorities.

It is also a good news story that is being ignored by the Fake News.

Trump Presides Over Biggest Drop in Violent Crime in U.S. History.

QUOTE: Violent crime rates in the United States saw their largest one-year drop record in 2025, according to federal data.

According to Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) data, the murder rate declined 18.1 percent, motor vehicle theft declined by 22.7 percent, and burglary declined 15.8 percent. The country also experienced sharp declines in aggravated assault, rape, and robbery, which dropped by 7.2 percent, 7.6 percent, and 18.5 percent, respectively.

The report's key findings were announced on Friday by the White House. The decline has been attributed to the Trump administration's law and order policies, such as the crackdown on illegal immigration and deploying National Guard troops and federal law enforcement to assist local police in high-crime urban areas. "After years of chaos, skyrocketing crime, and soft-on-crime policies under Biden plunged the nation's biggest cities into anarchy and disorder, President Trump took office a promise to restore public safety—and he has delivered in historic fashion,” stat the White House earlier this year.

“Largest reduction in violent crime in U.S. HISTORY,” the White House stressed in statement posted to social media.

The release of these stats coincided with a report showing that the Make D.C. Safe and Beautiful Task Force recorded more than 16,000 arrests within a year of being created. This included 35 homicide suspects and over 100 known gang members while seizing nearly 2,000 illegal firearms and locating 25 missing children. The task force also produced more than 3,200 narcotics arrests. The historic drop in crime provides a significant boost to public safety.

3- ALL of the illegals need to be sent home. Period.

It is not complicated.

And, we want ICE at polling places.

Illegal Alien Sentenced to Federal Prison for Voting Illegally and Identity Theft

QUOTE: Carlos Felipe Jaramillo-Grajales, a 55-year-old Colombian illegal alien, has been sentenced to three years in federal prison after being convicted of aggravated identity theft, making false statements, and falsely claiming U.S. citizenship to vote in elections.

Prosecutors revealed that Jaramillo-Grajales stole an American citizen's Social Security Number to obtain a U.S. passport, a Florida driver's license, and voter registration. He used these fraudulent credentials to vote in the 2020 election and others. After serving his sentence, he will be deported under a federal order.

"Because of his fraud, he was able to obtain a driver's license and vote in our elections. Thanks to the hard work of the men and women of [Homeland Security Investigations], along with our federal partners, this criminal is out of our communities and, at the end of his sentence, will be removed from our country. DHS will always fight to protect the integrity of our elections, because election security is national security. Only Americans should be electing American leaders
DHS Secretary Markwayne Mullin

This case underscores vulnerabilities in the election system and the need for stronger safeguards to prevent non-citizens from participating in U.S. elections. It also highlights the role of fraudulent documentation in circumventing immigration laws.

Jaramillo-Grajales previously used his stolen Social Security Number to pose as an American citizen and marry another foreign national who has since been naturalized as a U.S. citizen, underscoring the weaknesses in U.S. vetting processes.

4- A message for all the people who run airports.

Here's the thing...we do NOT need foot baths, saunas, or fancy lounges in airports.

We need the planes to fly on time. And maybe better food.

Could y'all just work on those two things?

DFW Airport Cancels Muslim Foot-Washing Stations in Stunning Development After TX Gov. Stance

QUOTE: Texas Governor Greg Abbott (R) is under an immense amount of heat in the Lone Star State. And no, we're not talking about the daily 100-degree temps.

Texans are fed up at the endless stream of foreigners coming into the state. It is against this backdrop that the fuse was lit about a seemingly innocuous story: Muslim foot-washing facilities at the Dallas-Fort Worth airport.

In a Friday press release, Abbott took an unusually strong stance against the proposed Muslim foot-washing facility at the airport, declaring it "illegal."

"These ablution facilities appear designed to single out one subset of the population for special treatment based on religion. That is illegal," Abbott added "Both airports are government-owned facilities. The federal and state constitutions prohibit government from facilitating this sort of discrimination. Just as the government cannot favor the secular over the sacred, it also cannot favor one religious view over all others."

It turns out, Governor Abbott's statement worked. In an update on Friday night, Dallas-Fort Worth airport told Fox News that it was not proceeding with the plan
