SHE NEVER SAW IT COMING

A classical painting of a young woman with her hands clasped, overlaid with a text box. The woman has a serene expression and is wearing a light-colored dress with a red shawl. The background is dark. A text box with a white border is centered over the lower part of the painting.

My teenager really likes me — unless I ask them to do something, give them advice about anything at all, say the wrong thing, do the wrong thing, or breathe the wrong way.
